

God's Dwelling at Your House

Amos 9:11

Jack Hayford

God can be worshipped anywhere a believer creates an atmosphere of praise and worship in spirit and in truth. As a priest in your home, you entertain the presence of the Lord. Focus your attention on preparing a place where God can dwell in your home. Fill your tabernacle with the breath of praise.

God is calling you to integrate the power of the Spirit, the truth of the Word, and the love of the Lord Jesus into your house. The challenge is not only to become a person of worship but also a person who welcomes the presence and glory of God into your home. If you feel discouraged by past failures, take heart because there is hope. God will raise up the tabernacle in your house as you follow His directives. As He promised through the prophet Amos, God will rebuild the ruins and restore His glory in you.
